

Contents

AUGUST 2010

editor's note

5 UPHOLDING GOOD BEHAVIOUR

cover story

- 6 LEADING BY EXAMPLE Good corporate governance can only be achieved with commitment from the people at the top. The Chairman and Board of Directors have the vital responsibility of putting in place a culture that enables companies to achieve good corporate governance and nurture people of integrity.

economy

- 12 DOING IT THE NOR-WAY Norway has thrived by going its own way. When others splurged, it saved. When others sought to limit the role of government, Norway strengthened its cradle-to-grave welfare state – The New York Times, 14 May 2009.

tax

- 20 THIN CAPITALISATION – CAN IT BE IGNORED?

accounting

- 24 STEERING THE CAPITAL MARKET TOWARDS FINANCIAL REPORTING EXCELLENCE High quality and reliable audited financial statements are one of the important elements in a capital market. It provides market participants with information on the financial performance of corporations which will be used in their investment decisions.

- 30 CLOUD COMPUTING – A BREAKTHROUGH SYSTEM FOR PUBLIC PRACTICE Public practice accountants may have come across the terms “cloud computing” and “Software-as-a-Service” (SaaS). Have you ever wondered what they mean, and what impact these technologies are likely to have on your practice and your clients?

- 34 WORLD NEWS

- 35 IFAC NEWS

management+business

- 36 DOING THE RIGHT THING The sudden departure of one of Australia's top chief executives after 'inappropriate behaviour' towards a 25-year-old female employee shines the spotlight on the need for companies to have good corporate governance to set the 'checks-and-balances' and boundaries of organisational behaviour.
- 40 CFOs: CATALYSING BUSINESS?
- 44 SUSTAINABILITY: THE KEY TO SUCCESS? Chief executives believe overwhelmingly that sustainability has become critical to their success, and could be fully embedded into core business within ten years
- 48 THE BATTLE FOR PARKWAY The ensuing and intriguing battle for Singapore-listed upmarket healthcare provider, Parkway Holdings Ltd, will remain an important case study for years to come, for a myriad of reasons.

lifestyle

- 54 TRACKING THE MEGATRENDS Some 23 megatrends - including the Asian Ascent and E-Migration - strengthened in the great recession, and more than half of these trends drive markets larger than US$500 billion, according to recent research by the Boston Consulting Group.
- 58 RUB-A-DUB-DUB An ancient healing system from India, once confined to the continent, has now spread beyond its borders offering modern lifestyles an alternative route to well-being.
- 62 OF CLAY PITS AND COLOURFUL SAREES
- 66 BOOK REVIEW
- 67 MPDC TRAINING PROGRAMMES